ABOUT LA VOIX STUDIO

La Voix Studio "the Voice Studio", is a place where singers come to develop and improve their voices. Students learn how to use their voice by rehabilitating vocal issues, discover great techniques, eliminate vocal breaks, strengthen their voice, expand their range, gain power, balance, and control in their voice. Our philosophy is to teach students how to sing correctly while preserving the longevity of their voice.

We accomplish this by demonstrating and having students practice vocal exercises to control and balance their air pressure, cord closure and vowels. We also teach students audition and performance preparation. La Voix Studio opened in Studio City to support, outreach and give back to the community by facilitating opportunity through vocal scholarships for youth and adult singers. The celebrity studio houses great vocal talent as well as world class musicians who wish to continue to spread the wealth of knowledge of a balanced voice and musical technique among others.
